Chico Invades State Gym; Teams Have Perfect Records

By DAVE KRUG, Golden Gater Sports Writer

Championship hopes for both San Francisco State and Chico State ride on the outcome of this week end's titanic twin bill in the Gator gym. Both teams currently hold a perfect, 8-0, Far Western Conference record.

Tomorrow night's game officially concludes State's 1954-55 basketball schedule. Should the two teams split victories, a single game play-off at Chico would be necessitated. The Far Western Conference champion, then, shall receive a bid to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics regional play-offs.

TOUGH OPPONENT

Chico State has always been a rugged opponent for the Gators. Last basketball season, for instance, S. F. State traveled to Chico with a two-game lead over the Wildcats for first place.

The northerners won the series, and then came to San Francisco and defeated the locals in the play-offs to determine who would represent the Far West Conference in the N. A. I. A. tournament.

The motive of revenge should prevail tonight, with keen incentive from both camps. S. F. State would like nothing better than to make Chico rue the day for those three consecutive defeats last year. Chico, on the other hand, is still smarting from the 7-6 football win the Gators posted over them for the F. W. C. crown.

LAST GAME FOR LEIBE

Both first string centers, Bob Leibe for State, and George Maderos of the Wildcats, will be competing in their last conference basketball game. With both Leibe and Maderos stars in their own right, tonight's and tomorrow night's games feature an added point of interest.

The Chico five, besides Ma-

Dempster, Garcia Run Unopposed in Special Election

Running unopposed in today's major student body election are Robin Dempster for the office of vice president and Ruben Garcia for the post of activities commissioner.

Dick Laine, election committee chairman, emphasized that each of these candidates must receive a simple majority of the votes cast in order to secure the offices.

Dempster, a junior, has served as a member of the Board of Publications, and currently holds the position of representative-at-large in the ASSFSC.

Garcia, a member of the activities committee, served as chairman of the recent "Night of Fun."

Election booths will be located in the foyer of the Red Room. All members of ASSFSC may vote.

Delta Phi Gamma Elects Spring Officers

Announcement of new officers for the spring semester were made this week by Delta Phi Gamma fraternity.

Heading the list is Frank Lenci, who replaces outgoing president Frank Walsh.

Other officers are: Ed La Pedis, vice president; Max Vella, treasurer; Pete Baroni, corresponding secretary; Chuck Weise, recording secretary; Jack Morgan, sergeant-at-arms; Al Legasa, historian; Jim Morton, pledge master; Howard Adams, publicity director; and Bill Campbell, sports director.

deros, is sparked by a sensational freshman, Bob Fidler. Last year, Fidler was All-North California for Chico High. Chico also features two other seniors who will be playing their last conference games, Bill Ceaglo and Bert Calvert.

MAY PLAY SAN JOSE

Should San Francisco win both games, they would have to play another team for the Northern California championship. That team could be San Jose, by virtue of their good record, or it could be Chico. At the moment, however, the other team is unknown.

Likewise, should State lose both games to Chico, they still could meet Chico in the Northern California play-offs.

Should State win the Northern California play-offs, they would play host to the Southern California champion, and the winner would represent District Three at the national tournament in Kansas City.

At the moment, however, the games upon which everything rests are tonight's and tomorrow's "Big Games." Both games start at 8:15 o'clock.

Students Present Ethnic Program

Overseas students of San Francisco State college will present an ethnic program of songs and dances from many countries on Thursday and Friday evenings, March 3 and 4, at 8:30 o'clock in the Little Theater.

Commentary for the program will be delivered by Miss Raana Husain of Pakistan. Mr. Anatol Juokowsky, former ballet master of the opera in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, will choreograph special dance numbers.

Carlos Carvajal of the San Francisco Ballet Company will represent Spain. The Filipino Tinikling, dance of the bamboo sticks, will be performed.

Other contributing groups will include the Women's Choral Dance Group of San Francisco, and the Modern Dance groups of S. F. State college.

Admission will be $1 for the general public and 50 cents for holders of student body cards.

Organizations Must Meet On-Campus Dance Rules

All organizations holding on-campus dances must meet certain standards. If the requirements are not met, the dance may be cancelled. The rules applying to these functions are:

1—All San Francisco State College student body card holders, stag or with their dates, be admitted to the dances unless otherwise stipulated by the dance-sponsoring organization or organizations.

2—Members of the San Francisco State College Alumni Association and the student body card holders of other colleges be admitted with their dates upon presenting their respective cards and paying the asked admission price. Faculty members and their guests will be admitted.

3—That all others be excluded.

4—A floor committee of a

The Creative Arts

By ROBERT M. KLANG

There is quite an interesting L. P. record now on sale at record shops in San Francisco and other towns of the Bay Area. We say "interesting" because (well . . . we really . . . hummm . . . because) we just better not say "good" or "fine."

And since Socrates, Milton, Luther, Jefferson, and Hugo were men who did NOT hesitate to say things they are deported, in the satirical radio drama "The Investigator" (the name of the L. P.), from "Up Here" to "Down There." The drama, written by Reuben Shipp, one of the many writers in this country who have had trouble with congressional investigating committees, was originally broadcast by the Canadian Broadcasting Company.

A brass band, playing the first few phrases of a very convincing full-speed-ahead and damn - those-who-try-to-stop-me march-like tune, is heard at the outset of "The Investigator." Then we hear the investigator, in a voice that is striking in its resemblance to that of the famous Senator from Wisconsin, saying to one of his colleagues that no matter what "the party" says he will carry on with his investigations. He then rushes to the airport to board his plane.

But, unfortunately for individuals who long ago departed from this world, the plane crashes and the investigator finds himself at the gates Up Here. To his astonishment the investigator learns that he must be investigated by the committee on permanent entry Up Here. In the meantime he meets and becomes a friend of some of the most notorious suppressors of thought in human history. Two of these gentlemen are Cotton Mather and the leader of the Spanish Inquisition.

The gatekeeper of Up Here, who is chairman of the committee on permanent entry, soon finds himself at the mercy of the newcomer, for he (the investigator), through convincing rhetoric, makes the rest of the committee believe that the gatekeeper is one of the persons responsible for the thousands (we don't remember exactly how many thousands) of years of treason in Up Here. The treason was the allowing of subversive elements to have permanent residence Up Here. So, the investigator is not investigated, the gatekeeper is deported to Down There, and the committee has a new chairman: yes, the investigator. (End of first side.)

The second side, except for the last part, was not as interesting to us as the first, for we anticipated the coming events: the seeking out and deporting of scores of Up Here's inhabitants (mostly philosophers and artists) to Down There by the investigator and his henchmen.

Toward the end of the drama the investigator gets tired of deporting the Jeffersons, Miltons, Bachs and Chopins. He wants to go after the Chief. And when his followers exhibit fear at the thought of investigating the Chief, the investigator says: there is no individual in so high a position as to be immune (etc.).

But the people Up Here won't stand for an investigation of the Chief. Soon the investigator's power declines and it is not long before deportation procedures are started against him. And as he is being sent away we hear him insanely crying "I am the Chief, I am the Chief, I am the Chief."

The record ends with the in-

Smatter of Opinion

The following is the opinion of Mr. Stephen T. Davis, and does not necessarily represent that of the college, the Associated Students, or the Golden Gater.

One of the more ballyhooed pedagogic cliches concerns itself with the respect due one's elders. As one of the myriad devices perpetuated of the conservative mentality, this hackneyed slogan enjoys extensive popularity. As a guide to intelligent, progressive behavior, however, it is seriously open to question.

Our elders have not exhibited any considerable ability to conduct human affairs on a mature, sane level. On the contrary, our fathers' generation has demonstrated an almost absolute incapacity to learn from the errors of preceding generations.

There are, even on this campus, many grey heads without corresponding grey matter. There are, again even on this campus, middle-aged and older persons who have lost all title to the respect of their younger contemporaries; indeed, it is they who should honor and respect the young men and women whose vision and determination they have failed to corrupt.

In many respects, the average juvenile delinquent, who has not submitted to the inanities and inhumane restrictions of his society, possesses more potential for ameliorative social behavior than the multitude of wrinkled and worried incompetents who fill the streetcars, sidewalks, and lecture halls with their unimaginative, repetitious drivel.

No man is entitled to respect merely because he has lived long, but because he has lived well. Senility and wisdom are not synonymous. Old age is more often the result of vicious obstinacy, than of virtuous determination.

Hope for tomorrow does not rest in the hands, minds, and hearts of our fathers. The perversity of their self-betrayal has prepared them to sacrifice our own generation, as if a repetition of their mistakes would free them from total responsibility.

With few noble exceptions: Our mothers and fathers are more fit for cattle-herding than for parenthood;

Our instructors are dull, sterile things, paralyzed by fear of censure, punily equipped with formulae, and mimeographed quotations;

Our priests and ministers shout their obscenities at old and tired gods;

Our generals and admirals are eager to smear youthful blood on the crumbling shrines of Caesar, Hitler, and Napoleon;

Our professional patriots do not understand that one human life is more precious than any rags, no matter what design is stamped on them.

These are among the crimes of our respectable elders.

NOTHING

(The Sum Total of This Column's Worth)

By HANK CUNNINGHAM

Last Friday morning the prefab walls of this battered old Gater office echoed and re-echoed with the plaintive cry of a sadly disillusioned young lady whose dander was definitely up. Her name was Bonnie Baltzen, president of the Sophomore class, and her opinion of her classmates and the rest of the students of S. F. State was, for the moment at least, at a very low ebb. I found her more than willing to reveal the reason for her disturbed state.

It seemed that she had been in charge of making the preparations for the Sophomore Sports Show which had been held the night before. These preparations required two months of planning and arranging, and three and a half hours of physical exertion.

Good Show, but Poor Showing

The result of her toil and strain was a good show, but a poor showing.

Out of the thousands of people who frequent these halls of higher learning, approximately 50 attended. The over-all attendance was estimated to be between 200 and 400 persons.

Most of those who turned out for the event were sports-minded people who responded to the publicity disseminated throughout the Bay Area.

Lack of Student Support

Lack of student support for student affairs has long been a characteristic of this campus so no one, save perhaps Bonnie, was really surprised at the empty bleachers during this show. The joker in the deck, however, was no so much the lack of attendance in general, but rather, the lack of support rendered by the members of the Sophomore class.

Had it not been for a number of obliging coaches and a thimble full of fair-minded students, the whole works might well have fallen through. Twenty Sophomore men (and I use the term "men" in its most liberal sense), consented to aid in the preparations. Barely half honored their word, a fact which caused the opening curtain to rise 30 minutes late.

To those precious few who did contribute so generously should go the appreciation of the entire school. To the rest of State's students, and particularly the some 1600 members of the Sophomore class I shall hereby dedicate the sum total of this column's worth. Even that is more than you rate.

Lincoln Leads JVs in Finale

The JV basketball squad will wind up the current season this week end with a pair of home games.

Tonight they will host the Oakland Naval Air Station team at 6 o'clock, just before the varsity game.

Jefferson High School will meet the Junior Gators here at 6 o'clock tomorrow night for the final tilt.

To date the junior cagemen have won a total of 10 games, and have lost six. They should better this record tonight and tomorrow night.

A good number of individual high scorers have emerged from some of the recent games.

Holder of high-point honors is Bob Lincoln. Lincoln has consistently been high-point man in past games and has netted such high totals as 27, 25 and 24 points per game.

This is the first year that San Francisco State college has had a regular coach for the JVs instead of a student teacher or just a manager. Dr. Vic Rowen, JV mentor, was formerly at Defiance College in Ohio.

Golf Team Looks For Seventh FWC Championship

The San Francisco State golf team, coached by Mr. de Ghetaldi, begins its 1955 season today in quest of its seventh straight Far Western Conference championship.

The Gators will face a round robin schedule with each conference member with the exception of Humboldt State, whom they only meet once.

The conference is composed of the Cal Aggies, Humboldt State, Sacramento State, Chico State, University of Nevada, and San Francisco State.

In addition to the regular round-robin schedule, the Gators will participate in the Far Western Conference championships to be held in Chico on May 13 and 14, and also the Northern California Intercollegiate championships to be held in Pasatiempo in April. Last year, the Gators finished as runner-up to Stanford in this tournament.

Coach de Ghetaldi has a well-rounded squad led by Bob Moniz, last year's captain and a medalist in the F. W. C. in 1951, and Monte Nevis, San Francisco prep champion in 1952 and an eighth place finisher in the National Juniors.

The rest of the team is composed of John Glancy, a first-year man from Los Angeles; George Starm, a Richmond High graduate and the number five man last year; John Sochor, a member of the football team and a three-year golfer at George Washington High; and Andy Panagiotou, a freshman from Castlemont High in Oakland.—H. ## JV CAGERS LOSE IN CLASH WITH LOWELL

S. F. State's JV cage squad met their match last Friday night when they clashed with Lowell High School in a game that ended in the Indians' favor, 63-58.

Saturday night the junior hoopsters redeemed themselves by playing what Coach Rowen called, "the best shooting game of the season," as Fort Bragg High School was downed by a score of 65-52.

Fort Scores 428 Points

Although he was held to "only" 20 points for the week end, Hank Fort still managed to become the second highest single season scorer in State history, as he brought his total to 428 points, surpassing the 1947-48 mark of 420 set by John Burton. Only former State All American Kevin Duggan, with 686 points in 1950-51 and 626 in 1951-52, is ahead of Fort.

Gators Win Twin Bill With 11-Point Spree; Slow Start

By scoring when they had to and relying on others to score besides their harrassed point-making star, Hank Fort, the Gator basketball team dumped Humboldt State twice last week end, 52-45 and 66-58, to retain their undefeated status in Far Western Conference play, and their lead with Chico State.

Last Friday night saw a slow, dull, sloppy first half, in which scoring was at a minimum. At one time the ball was stolen by each team six successive times, with neither team scoring a point. The half-time score of San Francisco 22, Humboldt 15, looked like a medieval one.

Much of the second half was still a scrambling match, with Humboldt scrambling just a little better and whittling down a big Gator lead to tie the score at 38-38 with only four minutes remaining. The basket that tied the score had the same affect as the kiss that awoke the sleeping beauty, because in the next 40 seconds the Gators put on a dazzling display that netted them 11 points. Only in this brief interval did they look like the champs they may emerge to be at the end of this week end.

Leibe and Fort were high point men with 18 and 16 points, respectively, while forward George Ibarreta put on a magnificent display of side-court shooting for the Lumberjacks, to end up with 17 counters.

The Saturday night game was a much tighter knit exhibition, in which the Gators were off to a quick 12-2 lead, and were never really threatened thereafter. Humboldt did pull up to within two points several times in the second half, but could never quite get over the hump. Half-time score was: Gators 36, Lumberjacks 24.

Hank Fort had continued pressure exerted on him, scoring only four points, but was just as valuable to the team as this allowed forward Bobby Brown to shake loose with his biggest night of the season and hit for 18 markers. Bob Leibe was right behind him with 17 points. Humboldt center Paul Shields took high point honors for the night with 19 points.
